

5.2 Information Security Policy

- This clause provides a framework for your organisation to set and review the Information Security objectives
- Top management is responsible for putting together an appropriate Information Security Policy that suits the organisation and its context
- ISMS policy is to be applied throughout the organisation and made known to interested parties as well
- Can be done in various ways, such as on the company website, through staff training, supplier contracts and more